Indianapolis, IN – December 12th, 2013

Creative Works, Inc. (www.theWOWeffect.com) has added a new member to the Theme Team: Roxanna Gressel, Director of Project Management.

"Roxanna has been a great addition to the team, her organization and client management skills have greatly increased our work flow process at Creative Works," commented President, Jeff Schilling.

Roxanna helps coordinate each project and communicate this process with our clients. With a background in fine arts and product design, she has a unique insight into the development of various 3D objects and spaces. She has experience managing projects with successful creative teams of artists, engineers, manufacturers, and fabricators for both large retail corporations and small, specialized studios. Roxanna is passionate about building client relationships and caring for our customer's needs, and will address all questions and concerns throughout each project, to minimize the learning curve and achieve the client's goals.

You can meet Roxanna and the rest of the Creative Works team at TAG360, an educational event February 4th and 5th, 2014 on the ins and outs of diversifying your family entertainment center.
